INDIANS GET TWO RUNS IN FOURTH INNING; RUTH FIRST TO SCORE FOR YANKEES

Hoyt, Pitching Against Coveleski, Fans Three in First—$35,000 at Game.

By Isaac Shuman.

POLO GROUNDS, Sept. 23.—Thirty-five thousand witnessed the first game to-day between the Yankees and the Indians in the four game series which will decide the American League championship. The crowd began coming early, but not in great numbers until after 2 o'clock and between then and the beginning of the game it was amused and thrilled by the batting and fielding practice of the two teams.

The Yankees came out at 2 o'clock and received a scatter of applause, which, however, increased in volume a few moments later when Babe Ruth emerged from the clubhouse gate alone. The Indians came out at 2:20 o'clock and got a great hand.

In batting practice Babe Ruth set the crowd on edge with antics by hitting three balls in succession into the right field stand.

Hoyt and Schang were the batteries for the Yankees. Coveleski and O'Neill were the batteries for the Indians.

The score by innings:

FIRST INNING.

CLEVELAND—Jamieson fanned, Wambagusa safe when Pipp dropped.
